HARRIS FAMILY

In the course of many years of research the following family notes have been made. They are not exhaustive but will serve to distinguish the several generations and family connections of the older families.

It is hoped that this story of the Harris Family will prompt the preservation of both family records and letters. There are many old family records, old Bibles and old letters hidden away in trunks, desks and attics, in danger of being lost to posterity, which can easily be preserved.

The genealogical notes which have been appended, are in no wise intended to be exhaustive. In many cases they are the ones furnished by correspondents. These have been added hoping that they will stimulate interest in our early family, and also encourage the collection and preservation of family records.

To each individual who has contributed to the making of this story, my profound thanks are expressed in this general manner. It is to be hoped that you may derive as much pleasure from the reading as the writer has in collecting the facts contained in the subsequent pages.

HARRIS COAT OF ARMS

AMRS: Argent, a Lion rampant sable, surmounted by a chevron ermine.

CREST: An Eagle displayed, (or).

MOTTO: Kur Deu Res Pub Tra, (For God and Commonwealth).

AUTHORITIES: Design data from the family; Burke's "General Armory"; Bolton's "American Armory"; Virkus "Compendium of American Genealogy".

INTERPRETATION: The above official description written in terms common to heraldry means that the arms, or shield, is silver (argent) and on this is a Lion in rampant position which is black (sable). Then, surmounting this Lion is a Chevron of ermine.

The Crest is an Eagle with wings spread (displayed) and of gold (or).

In addition, as is the custom when blazoning in tinctures, we add the knightly helmet and the cloak or mantle. All parts are arranged as so frequently seen in days of old when a Knight would hang up his shield on a wall peg, then remove his helmet and hang that on the same peg and over the shield. We show the crest on top of the helmet because on special days when the Knight wore full military dress he fastened his crest to the top of the helmet by means of a wreath of twisted material as seen in this blazon. This wreath was likely to be cloth or leather. Lastly the Knight removed his cloak and draped that over the helmet with the ends falling around the shield as shown here.

Our ancestors were most proud of their emblems and displayed them whenever possible. In fact these coats of arms were symbols of great social distinction for to have one made one a gentleman. Without he was referred to as, "He's no gentleman" and of course then, his wife, "was no lady".

The meaning of symbols on coats of arms is not easy to find as they pertain to one's family history but we do know that certain symbols were commonly given as a result of certain conditions. Chevrons were symbols given to those who had protected the weak and lions were for special service to the ruler. Of course ermine is the royal fur. The black arrowheads are the conventional heraldic symbol of the tiny black ermine tail. Eagles were symbols of strength and those displayed were symbolic of readiness.

Even though we do not know the exact intimate family history related to these symbols one may be proud that his ancestors were of a class entitled to have a Coat of Arms and that they were gentlemen and ladies. There is some truth to the statement that we are the product of all that has gone before us. Cherish the memory of our ancestors.

THE HARRIS COAT OF ARMS

"A Coat of Arms" is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons of royal blood, and their descendants.

Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life. It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in some crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms in one form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A.D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Harris Coat of Arms most widely used, has been in existence for many centuries. It is described in Burke's General Armory, Burke's Landed Gentry, Burke's Peerage and Baronetage, Bethan's Baronetage and has been used for generations by the early Virginia families and their descendants.

HARRIS GENEALOGY

Landric de Beaugency of Orleands France, was ancestor to the powerful Barons of Beaugency, and had two sons, John and Hericeus or Herice - They lived about 996 to 1031 A.D.

Hericeus had a son - Ancelin de Beaumont, who went to England and held a Barony in Nottingham about 1088 A.D.

Ancelin's son, Ivo Fitz Herice or de Heris, was Viscount of Nottingham before 1130 A.D.

Ivo Fitz Herice's sons were:

1. Ralph Hauseline, who held a Barony in England in 1165 A.D.
  2. Robert Fitz Herice, who was executed by Henry II of England.
  3. Josseline..
  4. William who held three fiefs in Nottingham and 4 in Lincoln.
  5. Humphrey, who was of Berks, England in 1158 A.D.
- (A William Harris possessed estates in Wilts England)

The French name "Herice" seems to have been changed to the English "Harris" by these sons.

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth and development of the human body. The study is based on a series of experiments conducted over a period of six months. The results of the study are presented in the following sections.

The first section discusses the methods used in the study. The second section presents the results of the experiments. The third section discusses the implications of the findings. The fourth section concludes the study.

Methods

The study was conducted using a series of experiments. The first experiment was designed to measure the effect of diet on growth. The second experiment was designed to measure the effect of exercise on growth. The third experiment was designed to measure the effect of sleep on growth.

The results of the experiments are presented in the following sections. The first section discusses the results of the first experiment. The second section discusses the results of the second experiment. The third section discusses the results of the third experiment.

The study concludes that diet, exercise, and sleep all have a significant effect on growth and development. The findings of the study have important implications for the health and well-being of the human body.

THE HARRIS FAMILY

The ancestors of this family came from Glamorgan County, Wales, to France, then to England during the reign of Charles II, where they remained until their removal to America, probably near the middle of the 17th Century and settled in the Colony of Virginia, The Stock is Anglo-Welsh.

HARRIS FAMILY Seat at Weston Hanges, Kent County England.

1. SIR WILLIAM HARRIS, Bart., m Alice Smith daughter of Sir Thomas Smith, Their Children:
  1. Sir Arthur Harris, b 1584, member of 34d Va. Corporation 1609-1614 and a member of Parliament 3-1632.
  2. Captain Thomas Harris, b 1587, came to Va. 1611, settled in Henrico Co., m (1) Adria Gurganey, m (2) Joane Osborne.
  3. John Harris, b 1588, Charter Incorporator of Va. Colony, Burgess of Shirley Hundreds 1629.

THOMAS HARRIS, son of Sir William Harris of Crixes Essex, b 1587, came to Virginia in the ship "Prosperous" in May 1611, during the governorship of Sir Thomas Sale, and settled at the "Neck of Land" in Henrico County. In the census taken Feb. 1624-25 in Virginia, he made a muster roll of his own family, and in this he gives his age as 38 years and the name of the vessel he came on as the "Prosperous".

Alexander Browne in his "Genesis", vol. 2, page 212, says: "Thomas Harris, Gent., subscribed and paid 1.25 to the second Virginia Co. in January and November 1609. I think he was the person of the name who went to Virginia with Dale in 1611 and was living in Charles City, February 1625, with his wife aged 23. He may have been the son of Sir William Harris."

Sir Thomas Dale, with his charter as Governor of Virginia, sailed from Lands in England, March 27, 1611 with three ships, "The Star" "Prosperous" and "Elizabeth", carrying three hundred people, and this fleet anchored at Ft. Algernon, now Old Point Comfort, May 22, 1611, making the crossing in less than 60 days which was good sailing in those days. On Nov. 13, 1611, the "Prosperous" arrived in England on its return trip from Virginia.

Thomas Harris was a Captain in the Charles City Regiment in 1623, against the Indians, and was 2nd in command to Captain Thomas Osborne in an expedition in 1627. He served as a member of the House of Burgesses from Charles City County in 1638-47.

A Captain Nat'l Butler wrote a pamphlet entitled "The Unmasking of Virginia" and presented same to the King. This pamphlet reflected upon the officials of the King's Administration in Virginia, The House of Burgesses undertook to reply to it and presented a document entitled "The answer to An Information Presented unto Your Majesty by Capt. Nat'l Butler, entitled, The Unmasking of Virginia". Thirty-four members of the House of Burgesses signed it, and among them was Thomas Harris, who spelled his name Harries. (Burgess Journals, Vol. 1).

Thomas Harris received a grant of 750 acres in Henrico, within Diggs Hundred, Nov. 11, 1635 (Nugents Abstracts, Page 304), Southward upon the land of Edward Gurnay, Northward upon land of Joanne Harris, his wife, West upon the river and East into the woods (Nugent's Abstracts, page 33). This land was regranted to him with the addition of 70 acres for the Adventure of his wife Adria, as her name does not appear in the grant.

(Ref. Library, Richmond Va. C-S-71 L 724)

This grant was as follows: (Ibid, Vol. I, pages 105, 146, 147)
Capt. Thomas Harris, 820 Acres, Henrico Co., Feb. 25, 1639-1638.

(Nugent's Abstracts, page 615) Commonly known as Long Field, beg. at a creek over against Capt. Martin E-S-E. toward Sermo-W-N-W upon the main river. Due as follows: 100 acres for his own personal adventure, 100 acres for the personal adventure of his first wife, Adria, as being ancient planters in the time of Sir Thomas Dale, and 620 acres for the transportation of 13 persons.

He received another grant of 400 acres, which was bequested by Ann Gargancy, widow of Edward Gurganey, Gent., who came in the second supply in 1608 (works of Capt. John Smith, pages 108, 411, 524). Edward Gurganey (Gourgainy) came to Virginia in 1608 a head of his family to prepare a home for them. As his land fell within the Governor's land, he transferred his holdings to Henrico. He died shortly after the Assembly of 1619, as did his wife as shown in a patent to Capt. Thomas Harris as follows: Same to Capt. Thomas Harris July 12, 1637 (Nugent's Abstracts, page 438). Confirmation. Due unto the said Capt. Harris as followeth: 400 Acres being granted to Edward Gurganey by order of Court bearing date October 1, 1617, from the late Treasurer and Company and bequeathed by Ann Gurgancy widdows and relict of the said Edward to the said Thomas Harris as by her last will, bearing date 11th of February A.D. 1619-20 appeareth.

Thomas Harris married first in England Adria Gurganey, b 1598, daughter of Edward and Anne Gurganey. She died before Sept. 11, 1626, for at a General Assembly or Court held on that day, one Rebecka Graye aware and examaneth, "sayeth that ye good wife wright did tell this deponent that she told Thomas Harris he should bury his first wife being then betrothed unto him, which came to pass" (Va. Mag. Vol. 26, Page 13). The land grant records as quoted above show Adria Harris to be an Ancient Planter, which means that she came to Virginia before April 1616. She was listed among the "Maids" when returning on the "Marmaduke" in 1621, age 23, from a visit to England, where she probably had left her oldest children, because of the hard life in Virginia. With them in Virginia was Anne Woodlief, their kinswoman, age 7, and Elizabeth, a servant, age 15 years, who came in 1620, in the "Margaret" and John" (Eotton's Lists, pages 170-203-Rettan's Ref. H-187-5-H 739).

MAJOR ROBERT HARRIS

Major Robert Harris, one of the family, was born in Wales about 1645, d in 1701. He was married in 1651 to Mrs. Mary Rice (nee Claiborne and settled on the James River in Virginia. She was the daughter of William Claiborne and his wife Elizabeth Butler, who were married in 1621.

NOTE: The Virginia Historical Magazine, Vol. 1, Page 313 has the following in regard to the Claibornes of England: "The Ancient family from which Col. William Claiborne, the famous Colonial Secretary of Virginia, descended and derived its name from the Manor of Claiborne in Westmoreland near the River Eden. The manor is named in Doomday Book in 1086 and the family was for many generations Lords of the Place and of Brumpton, Cundale and others. He was born in 1586, came to Virginia in 1621, being a member of a distinguished family, was sufficiently influential to obtain large grants of land from King Charles I. In 1628 was appointed the first Colonial Secretary of the Colony of Virginia and a member of the Council. He was sent to England by the Commonwealth of Virginia as a special Commissioner to resist the encroachment of Lord Baltimore, who claimed a large portion of Virginia as well as Maryland; was successful in this matter, but lost financially by his public spirit, however, was finally reimbursed by the State of Virginia (in a measure) for his losses during the Baltimore negotiations; was sent by Cromwell and his parliament to negotiate terms with the Colonies. In 1643 the King made his Treasurer for life. In the Northampton Records, April 1653, is an order referring to the worshipful Colonel William Claiborne, Governor. He d 1678. His father is buried in the Claiborne Church in Yorkshire England, tomb can be seen there now.

To Robert Harris and his wife, Mrs. Mary Rice (nee Claiborne), was born in 1652 a son, William. Their home was near Weyanoke Va. The son William, married Temperance Overton, 12-24-1670 (The daughter of William Overton and his wife, Mary Walters, of Glen Cairn, Hanover County Virginia).

NOTE: The said William Overton, b 12-3-1628, was a son of Colonel Robert Overton of England who distinguished himself at the Battle of Marston Moor; accompanied Oliver Cromwell to Scotland, 1650; commanded a brigade of Iron Sides at the Battle of Dunbar. He was a soldier and a scholar, intimate friend of Milton, who celebrated his exploits in Defensio Secunda. He was a political prisoner for many years in Tower of London; was a voluminous writer of Philosophy and Religion (See Biographical Dictionary). The records show that the Overtons received patents of Virginia lands aggregating 4322 acres at various times. Nearly every family of this line has had a son named Overton for over three hundred years.

William Harris, who married Temperance Overton, d 3-8-1687. He was buried in an Old Colonial Church at Weyanoke, on James River, and a bronze tablet marked his resting place. The old Church long since going to ruine, on July 1, 1875, the tablet was found and moved to Norfolk Va., and placed in St. Paul's Old Church. Engraved on the tablet is the following: "Here lyeth ye body of William Harris, who departed this life ye 8th day of March 1687, aged 35 years.

From this emigrant sprang our American family. The blood courses in the veins of hundreds and hundreds of families, scattered all over America and elsewhere. The family as such is noted for courage, brains, patriotism and loyalty. Many have held and many now hold high positions of trust in various branches of learning, in the army, in the navy and in every calling and profession, lawyers, some humorous and learned writers and famous physicians.

To William Harris and his wife Temperance Overton was born three sons: Christopher, b 1671; Robert, b 1673, and Overton, b 1675.

Major Robert Harris, 2nd son of William Harris and his wife Temperance Overton, was born in Hanover Co. Virginia in 1676. He was in the House of Burgesses from Hanover Co. 1736-40-42, was appointed by the King as Surveyer of the new County of Louisa, which cut off from Hanover; was Justice of Peace of Louisa County.

He afterwards moved to Albermarle County, was one of the early settlers on Doyle's River, obtained patents for more than 3,000 acres in that vicinity, first entry made in 1750. Page 221 Rev. E. Wood's History of Albermale County. He was Vestry man of Fredericksville Parish a number of years. His son Tyree succeeded him. His will bears date of June 18, 1765, (dca 8-1-1765, see Will), probated 8-8-1765, recorded in Albermarle Co. Will Book No. 2, page 185, a copy of which is in William Harris Miller's Genealogy, Page 267.

The female descendants of Major Robert Harris are eligible to membership in the United States National Society of Colonial Dames, on account of his services as a member of the House of Burgesses.

January 13, 1720, Major Robert Harris was married to Mourning Glen, b 1702, d 1770; she was a remarkable woman, kind, generous, charitable, a devout christian, and much beloved by her acquaintances and offspring. Her children and descendants down through the generations have a daughter named Mourning Glen, showing their high estimation of her.

NOTE: Her borther, David Glen, was one of Capt. Herrod's company of thirty men who, on Jan. 2, 1777, went from Harrodsburg Ky. by McClennon's Fort (Georgetown), Blue Licks and Maysville, struck the Ohio River near the mouth of Cabin Creek, for gunpowder, which they obtained at a great risk, and returned with it to Harrodsburg, the oldest town in Kentucky.

To Major Robert Harris and his wife, Mourning Glen, were born 11 children as follows:

1. ANNE, born 3-31-1724, m John Dabney
2. CHRISTOPHER, b 2-5-1725, m (1) Mary Dabney 2-22-1745, (who was the daughter of Cornelius Dabney Sr. and his 2nd wife, Sarah Jennings, only daughter of Charles Jennings of England) To them were born 8 children. Christopher Harris, m (3) wife, Agnes McCord in 1762, 11 children were born. He died 1794 in Madison County Kentucky.
3. TYREE, b 4-8-1728, m (1) Elizabeth Chapman, m (2) Mary Anne Simpson. He had 8 children. He succeeded his father as Vestryman of Fredericksville Parish Va. Went to Orange Co. North Carolina and became High Sheriff in 1766-67 under General Tyron, the Colonial Governor, was present and took part with him at the Battle of Alamance, 5-;8-1771. His Will is on record, Caswell Co. N.C., Sept. 1, 1789. (See Colonial Records of N.C.) Wheeler's History shows his character and his connection with the Regulator uprising, one of the factors bringing on the Revolution.
4. MARY, b 2-10-1729, m her cousin James Harris, who was b 1722, d 1792. To them were born 10 children. Their son Nathan was the father of Honorable John T. Harris and Reverend William A. Harris, for many years Principal of the Female Seminary in Staunton Va. Their son Joel was the grandfather of Joel Chandler Harris, who wrote "Uncle Remus".

5. WILLIAM, b 3-15-1730, in Frederic Co. Maryland, m (1) Miss Mitchie, m (2) Miss Thompson, m (3) Hannah Jameson, d 1776.
6. MOURNING GLENN, b 3-27-1732, m John Jouett, who was a Captain of Virginia State Militia in Colonial War. A signer of the Albermarle Declaration of Independence, 4-21-1779. He had 2 children, 3 1808. The following is taken from Frederick J. Haskin's account of the son's (Jack Jouett) ride that saved Thomas Jefferson from capture and British prison: "Jack Jouett, his father, and 3 brothers were all Captains in the Revolutionary Army -- a record that it is said no other family made. The father was a friend and neighbor of Jefferson. The mother was of the Harris family and her given name was one to make moderns stop, listen and laugh -- Mourning -- a name that suggests that our colonial ancestors were as gloomy at christenings as at funerals."
7. LUCY, b 4-12-1734, m William Shelton, who was signer of Declaration of Independence of April 21, 1779, and d 1803.
8. SARAH, b 5-24-1736, m John Rodes 5-24-1756. He was born in Albermarle Co. Virginia, 11-16-1729, he was executor of the Will of his father-in-law (Major Robert Harris) which was probated in 1765. Their 2 children were Mary E. Rodes and Robert Rodes. Many of their descendants live in Kentucky.
9. Captain ROBERT, was the great-grandfather of Tyree Harris III, Attorney of Nashville Tenn.; b 3-8-1741, m 1762 Lucretia Brown, b 1746 (daughter of Benj. Brown Sr.) He was a Captain in the Revolution.
10. RACHEL, b 6-24-1744, m William Dalton.
11. FRANCIS ELIZABETH, b 1-27-1746, m Joel Crawford, their son William Crawford, was a United States Senator from Georgia, Minister of France, Secretary of Treasury under Pres. Monroe, and prominent candidate for Presidency in 1824.

The above records were secured from Rev. Edgar Wood's History of Albermarle Co. Va; Harris Genealogy by Gideon Dawes Harris, Columbia Miss; from Mrs. Theodore Shelton of St. Louis Mo., which she obtained from old family Bible in the possession of Mrs. G.W. Clardy of Liberty Mo. which must have belonged to Major Robert Harris, as it has dates of 1716-1721, but signed by Tyree Harris. On July 14 1823, it was copied into an old Bible by Cliff Harris, son of Joel and Anne Harris, and grandson of James and Mary Harris. Mrs. G.W. Clardy (nee Malviry Harris) is a descendant. It was also taken from William Harris Miller's Genealogy and History. This to show how various branches of the family agree in their dates and traditions, often without having heard anything from the rest.

3. TYREE HARRIS, SR., b 4-8-1728, d 1-1787, m (1) Elizabeth Chapman, no children; m (2) Mary Ann Simpson, daughter of Richard Simpson, his will recorded Caswell Co. N.C. 9-1-1789. Their 8 children: 1. Tyree Jr., b ca 1760, m 4-18-1785 Susannah Swift; 2. Robert; 3. Ede; 4. Simpson; 5. Christopher; 6. Lydie; 7. Nancy, m _____ Abercrobie; 8. Frances, m _____ Dabney.

NOTE: Children copied from Abstract of N.C. Wills, Caswell Co. Page 51. The name Tyree came from a Virginia family, possibly through Mourning Glenn. Mourning is also a surname of another Virginia Family, though it was often used as a given name.

- 3-1. TYREE HARRIS, JR., b ca 1760, d ca 1802, in Davidson Co. Tenn., m Susanna Swift *(See Marriage Bonds below). The widow Susannah Swift Harris m Arthur Dew, 12-19-1805 and had one son, Arthur Swift Dew. Children of Tyree and Susannah Swift Harris:
1. William, came to Tenn., m and resided on the Cumberland River.
  2. Sarah, m _____ Childres.
  3. Mary Ann, m Samuel Davis.

NOTE: From a "Brief Sketch of the Settlement and Early History of Giles County Tenn." (James McCallum 1876) "The land that later became Giles County was ceded by the Chickasaws in 1805. From 1805 until 1807 it was a part of Williamson County. It became Maury County when that County was organized in 1807. It became Giles County in 1809. The oldest deeds and grants from Giles County are in Williamson County. The first courts were attended by a large number of attorneys, including Marmaduke Williams and Alfred M. Harris. The Academy called Pulaski was chartered Nov. 1809. Tyree Rodes was one of the trustees. Name changed to Wurtemburg Academy in 1812. Alfred M. Harris one of the trustees.

WESTMORELAND

William James Westmoreland, son of Susannah Davis and Fisher Ames Westmoreland was b at Belmont, Fayette Co. Tenn. He was graduated from Belmont Academy in June 1856. He went to Kentucky to visit relatives of his mother and while there was elected principal of the Milburn Academy, Milburn Ky. He married Rachel Selma Horne the daughter of Louise E. Lockridge and Turner Horne of Columbus Ky. He joined the Confederate Army in 1861, Co. B., and was surrendered and paroled May 13, 1865 with General Forest's Command at Gainesville Ala. At the death of his wife, he took his children to Texas and followed teaching and surveying. He was one of the pioneer settlers of West Texas and ran many of the lines that now remain in that section of the State. There are also monuments and placques crediting him with establishing some of the first schools in Texas. Rachel Selma Horne Westmoreland, his wife, was born April 22, 1840 at Hickman Ky., d June 7, 1871 at Columbus Ky. Their Children:

1. May, b 9-24-1859, d 3-31-1931, m John T. Slaton 1-12-1882.
2. William J., b 10-18-1863, d _____, m (1) Kate Ewing 6-8-1887, m (2) Margaret Balee 3-3-1904.
3. Moneta, b 1867, d 1903, m George Gable.

May Westmoreland married John T. Slaton, the son of Daniel H. and Mary Jane Cook Slaton. He was born 8-6-1857, on his father's plantation near Dadeville Ala. He was a banker and cotton seed oil man in Texas and Oklahoma, and at his retirement in 1923 settled with his wife in Fort Valley Ga. May Westmoreland Slaton was a talented artist, a person of strong character who believed in "right is right, wrong is wrong, there is no middle ground". They had countless friends and were looked upon as an ideal couple. After the death of "Pet" as she was affectionately called by her husband, Mr. Slaton moved to Savannah Ga. in order to be near his children. Space prohibits eulogy, but it must be said that those who are descended from this couple have a heritage of which they may be exceedingly proud. Their children:

1. Edwin B., b 10-18-1882, d 9-27-1947, unmarried.
2. Moneta, b 5-22-1885, m 4-25-1906 Arthur W. Allison.
3. Joe, b 1889, d 1893.

Moneta Slaton married Arthur W. Allison, the son of George and Arcania Bozier Allison. He was born July 6, 1882 in Covington Ga. and finished school at Parker's Teachers Institute, Weatherford Texas. He organized the first Board of Trade in Americus Ga. in 1905. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce in Albany Ga. 1916-1918, was active in civic affairs and Liberty Bond sales in the first World War, and charter member of the Albany Rotary Club 1917. Mr. Allison and his family moved to Charleston S.C. in 1936 and resided at 117 South Battery. Mr. Allison is a member of St. Andrews Society, Elks Club, Hibernion Society, President Board of Trustees Bears Bluff Laboratory, Vice-Pres. Charleston T.B. Association and Member of Board; Member of Board of Trustees and former President of Charleston Museum, past President and member of Propellor Club, past President of Charleston USO, Director of Charleston Council of Boy Scouts of America, Member and past President of Charleston Rotary Club. He received the Charleston Chamber of Commerce Award in 1948 for being "Charleston's outstanding Citizen". An author recently inscribed the following in a book given to Mr. Allison, "To the one and only Mr. A.W." The Allison Lumber Company is his greatest interest and fishing runs it a close second.

Moneta Slaton Allison finished at St. Mary's in Dallas Texas, majored in piano, but sketching and painting appealed to her much

After Anne Elizabeth's death William Parks Rogers, m (2) Addie Seals in Bethel Tenn. and moved to Texas where they lived and had the following family:

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sound policy for the future. The author then proceeds to discuss the various factors which have shaped the history of the United States, including the influence of the European settlers, the role of the Native Americans, and the impact of the American Revolution.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the role of the United States in the world. It is argued that the United States has a special responsibility to the world, and that it should use its power to promote peace and justice. The author then discusses the various ways in which the United States has fulfilled this responsibility, including its role in the World War, its leadership in the United Nations, and its efforts to promote human rights.

3. The third part of the paper discusses the future of the United States. It is argued that the United States must continue to play a leading role in the world, and that it must do so in a way that is consistent with its values and principles. The author then discusses the various challenges that the United States will face in the future, including the threat of nuclear war, the problem of environmental pollution, and the need for economic reform.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the role of the individual in the history of the United States. It is argued that the actions of individuals have played a crucial role in shaping the course of the nation's history, and that each individual has a responsibility to contribute to the betterment of the country.

15-1 ISAAC BENJAMIN KRENTZMAN JR.- Following taken from Clearwater Florida Newspaper: Krentzman Marks Record Year in C-C

Leaving office after a year's work well done, Ben Krentzman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated, "This has been an active, fruitful year for the Chamber of Commerce. Many of our accomplishments are the result of preparation and hard work in previous years. Clearwater is a vital growing community, and it is a constant challenge to the Chamber of Commerce to meet the many problems of the city."

Krentzman is no stranger to Chamber of Commerce work -- a vice-president and Chamber of Commerce Director before becoming president, he has given several years of outstanding service to the organization.

A native of Milton Florida, Krentzman received his Bachelor of Science and Law degrees from the University of Fla. He began practice in Clearwater in 1938 and in 1941 began service in the US Army. After serving as a Lt. Colonel of Artillery he returned to Clearwater in 1946. In 1948 the Junior Chamber of Commerce named him the city's "outstanding young man."

He has served as president of the Clearwater Bar Association, the Kiwanis Club, the Little Theatre, Hillcrest Neighbors and the United Community Fund. He is a former City Attorney of Clearwater, and presently serves as Town Attorney for Largo.

In addition to belonging to the Kiwanis Club, Krentzman is a member of the Clearwater Bar Association, the American Bar Association, the Florida Bar and the Privateer's Club.

Mrs. Krentzman is the former Wilma McMullen. They have two children, John Arthur and Mary Louise.

In connection with his services against the enemy in the South West Pacific Krentzman was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.
